HepHIV

2023

13 - 15 NOVEMBER • MADRID

The next HepHIV conference will take place 13-15 November 2023 in Madrid, Spain.

Since 2007, the EuroTEST Initiative has organized biennial conferences on optimal testing and earlier care, focusing on both Hepatitis and HIV.

The conferences bring together civil society, policymakers, health professionals and European public health institutions and provide these stakeholders with the opportunity to learn from each other and to reflect on experiences, achievements and challenges.

The conference format includes a mix of plenary sessions, expert panel and roundtable discussions and moderated parallel sessions driven by submitted abstracts selected by the Conference Organising Committee based on a thorough review process.

Updates on the conference will be posted on the EuroTEST website
